Dance/NYC Celebrates National Arts in Education Week

► Share | Print | Download

This National Arts in Education Week, September 10 - 16, 2017, Dance/NYC partners with The Center for Arts Education \(CAE\) on its #VoteForArtsEd campaign and joins its commitment to ensuring that every child in every New York City public school has equal access to a well-rounded education of which the arts are a central component. Elected officials make decisions about funding and policy that impact what students learn and what resources schools receive. All City elected officials including Mayor, Public Advocate, Comptroller, District Attorneys, Borough Presidents, and City Council members may be up for election.

Visit vote.nyc.ny.us and register to vote by October 13 to participate in the general election on November 7. If you are already registered to vote, be sure to participate in New York City Primary Day on September 12. Polls are open from 6:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.
