Looking for dancers for the 2011/2012 :pushing progress Contemporary Training Program. As an alternative to other pre-professional dance training, :pushing progress is an inclusive program that gives any dancer the opportunity to have a successful career focusing on the collaboration of technique and education. By providing sophisticated information and making it accessible to every student, we hope to provide essential tools for every aspiring professional dancer.

Registration Deadline April 27, 2011!
