REVISION dance collaborative is a resident company of Dance Place.

Co-Artistic Directors: Valerie Branch and Shannon Quinn.

REVISION dance collaborative is a contemporary modern dance company that encourages audiences of all ages to engage in critical thinking about social issues in our everyday lives. The dancers become part of the choreographic process by continually looking at the movement from a fresh perspective that emphasizes a dancer's role in society and how that affects their role as a performing artist. REVISION offers residencies, workshops, performances, lecture/demonstrations, and a weekly company class at Dance Place.
