The Equus Projects: Part-time Project Development Director (20hrs/week)

The Equus Projects seeks a highly motivated, creative individual with an interest in interdisciplinary performance work and professional experience in project development, fundraising and management. The part-time Project Development Director will work with the Artistic Director on developing a new project, OnSite NYC.

OnSite NYC is a body site-specific works (without equines) created for urban venues that showcase The Equus Projects' teamwork-based performance and commitment to real-time task-based dancing. OnSite NYC emerges from a 15-year history of building diverse works for dancers and horses throughout the country.
