This is a great opportunity for a current student, or fresh graduate, who is looking to break into the New York City dance world. Responsibilities include grant and fundraising research, social media outreach, marketing support, administrative assistance, and on-site assistance at company events. As a special perk, you can opt to take weekly company class. Successful applicant must have access to a computer, be well-versed in Microsoft Office, demonstrate polished writing skills, have attention to detail, and have a passion for dance. The position is 5-10 hours per week, and the schedule is flexible.
