Hey cats! We are gearing up to shoot a music video on Wednesday, October 14 for the forthcoming Prairie Empire album, the Salt. The video will be a vintage inspired dance hall scene and we need a fair amount of people to fill the social hall space. You can find the song streaming here:

It's a pretty simple concept, and generally you will be slow dancing or drinking punch. We'll have real drinks and food on hand for all those involved. Bring a friend! Bring a partner! Meet some cool people? Seriously looking for all types. You know, like the modern/real world has. Tattoos, yes! Crazy hair? Absolutely!

We are asking folks to show up around 5 and anticipate that we will start to shoot shortly after 6, running until 9 or so. We will be shooting in Williamsburg. While it's great if you have a suit jacket or long (solid colored, no white or black) dress to wear, we will have some options on hand.

Please shoot any questions my way and I hope you might be able to join us!
