The physical theater company Sinking Ship Production is looking for dancers to take part in developing their latest work of theater - an adaptation of the science fiction novel, Solaris. The story takes place on a planet entirely covered in an ocean, that is alive in a way humans have yet to understand. The concept for the production is that the Ocean would be represented by a chorus of dancers - perhaps involving a non-newtonian liquid.

We're currently developing the piece as part of the resident artist program at Mabou Mines. Our next presentation date is the evening of March 14th - and we're planning on focusing on the ocean for this phase of the project. Our current rehearsal schedule is as follows:

Fri, March 4th before 9-11am
Sat, March 5th - 9-12pm
Sun, March 6th - 9am-12pm

Monday, March 7 - after 6pm
Thursday, March 10 - 9am-12pm
Saturday, March 12 - 9am-1pm
Sunday, March 13 - 9am-1pm
Monday, March 14 - Presentation - evening (Time TBD)

May 10 - June 1 - continued development and Final presentations

We'll be working towards a final presentation in the first week in June, and though we don't have a lot of resources to put towards this project yet, we're able to offer a $100 stipend.

If interested please send a resume, a headshot, a short clip of yourself in movement, and tell us a little about your experience creating work collaboratively.
