Artistic Director Nathan Trice is seeking research interns to aid in preparation for the company's next project campaign, Strange Love: EPISODES.

Strange Love is an immersion into the emotional world of relationships through episodic performances, reflected through dance, music, and spoken text. Mr. Trice believes that interdisciplinary art is uniquely capable of stimulating academic conversation, instead of passive consumption. The Strange Love campaign will be centered around garnering community responses to the project themes, that Mr. Trice will then use as part of his creative process.

Interns can work remotely and will be responsible for promoting through social media, online research, and blog maintenance (among other things). Interns must be self-motivated and responsible, and committed to the mission of the company.

As compensation, interns will be given a work study scholarship to the nathantrice/RITUALS summer intensive project. The intensive is a 3-week project that develops movement and text to create relevant, forward thinking dance (more information on the summer intensive can be found on the website).

Prior experience with nathantrice/RITUALS a plus, but not required.

To inquire and/or apply about the internship, please email your resume and indication of interest to sip.nathantricerituals@gmail.com
