Submissions are now open for Capturing Motion NYC, Dance Films Association's annual workshop series and dance film competition for students!

High school students from any of NYC's five boroughs may submit dance films between 1-5 minutes in length. Our call for submissions will be open until January 15, 2017. Finalists and the winning film will screen at the 45th Annual Dance on Camera Festival (February 3 a?? 7, 2017) co-presented by Dance Films Association and the Film Society of Lincoln Center. In addition, DFA will partner with Choreoscope International Dance Film Festival in Barcelona, Spain to present the Capturing Motion NYC winning film.

Films should feature dance as the main component. We accept dance films of all genres that address the relationship between dance and the camera. Any subject may serve as inspiration: social or street dance, dance in religious settings, professional dance, or non-dance images filmed so that they evoke dance, choreography, and movement in imaginative ways.

Submit films by 11:59PM EST on January 15, 2017, and email info@dancefilms.org with any questions! You can learn more and submit here: <http://bit.ly/CapMot>
