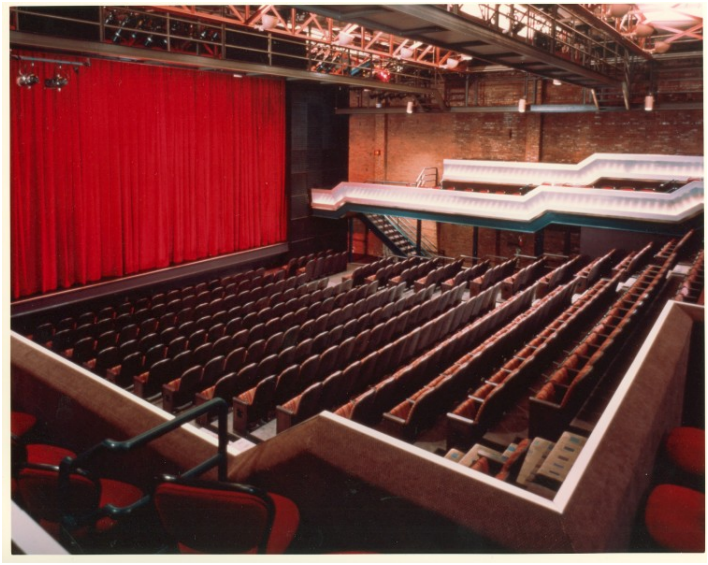
Arts Administration Internship - Programming

Company: The Joyce Theater Foundation, Inc.
Location: NEW YORK, NY
Compensation: none



The programming department of The Joyce Theater seeks an intern for the spring semester. Candidates should be current undergraduate/graduate students interested in performing arts administration. The intern will assist members of the department with various tasks including preparations for our Joffrey Ballet engagement at the David H. Koch Theater at Lincoln Center, research projects, producing and special event initiatives, artist services, database maintenance, preparation for the 17-18 season, and more. Interested applicants should send a resume and cover letter to Heather McCartney at hmccartney@joyce.org and should indicate interest in a programming department internship in the subject line of the email message to distinguish from other internships here at The Joyce. This unpaid internship will be part- or full-time, depending on availability of the candidate.
