Seeking Dancers for Fall 2017 project to be performed in NYC and tour to Boston. Please send a resume and a description of your experience to kellydonovandance@gmail.com, touring performances paid.

Saturday, September 2nd 4-6pm

Center for Performance Research, 361 Manhattan Ave. Brooklyn, NY, Near L Graham Stop.

Kelley Donovan & Dancers has a very collaborative process. Our movement vocabulary involves a very sequential use of the torso with abrupt energy changes, isolation and weight shifts. This would be a very collaboratively created work built to the dancers strengths as a group and individually and we will build the piece together.

We would premiere the work in January and perform in Boston and NYC a few times this spring.

The work, Transitional States explores the effects of change when life shifts in unexpected ways making us vulnerable and rapidly force us to adapt, conveyed through mercurial shifts in weight and movement.

Rehearsals will be once a week on Saturdays or Sundays sometime between 3-7pm most weeks in SoHo, LES and Brooklyn.

Performances January-February NYC and in March 2018 in Boston.
