Taragano Theatre will be holding auditions for dancers and physical performers for new projects in 2018. Taragano Theatre is the umbrella name for Mariana Taragano's creative endeavours which focus on expressive dance and movement for stage and screen. In 2018 Taragano will create a new short dance film for two dancers (in association with Bobotronic Creative) as well a solo work for stage. For these projects we are looking for dancers with strong and intriguing physical abilities, expressive performance abilities and an open mind. Working with Mariana Taragano requires love for creation processes, an interest in contributing to creation and an understanding of how to communicate well with an audience. Most rehearsals will be held Thursdays 10am-2pm in Brooklyn - availability at these times is non-negotiable. About three rehearsals will be held for the short film in February and the beginning of March at least 8-10 for the solo starting March. Please apply by sending a CV, cover letter and video footage to taraganotheatre@gmail.com and let us know if you'd like to be considered for both projects. Further details will be sent to invited artists. DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION JANUARY 26TH
