Seeking female ballet dancer for video

Company: Ade Richardson Compensation: No pay but you will receive link to video ► Share | Print | Download

Seeking female ballet dancer for video. This is a passion project where I'm using a poem about creating/creativity to be the connective tissue of the video - along with music and other images. I've already filmed most of the other images and now need a ballet dancer to pull everything together. I'm looking for someone who the poem connects with and is interested in the idea of the video. Filming should take one hour, somewhere in Manhattan. Unfortunately there is no pay for this project but you will get a link to the youtube video. I hope to film next week sometime in the afternoon, if possible.

Those interested - please send pictures, resume and video (if you have).

Thank you,

Ade
