We are interested in the Maliek aesthetic of Finding Newness. For some that may ask about the Maliek aesthetic, it is a movement language and pedagogy developed by Nasir M. Campbell.

It's all about what else the body can do, how can we search or discover a new way of moving, different shapes, understanding pleasure, letting go and bring life to the movement, listening to our body, sensitive hands with gestures, connecting to the senses, applying force, experience freedom and possibilities to name a few. We are also interested in Bone Breakers.
