WHAT WE DO

At LEAP we believe in the transformational power of the arts. We started as a grassroots movement with just four schools. Today, our teaching artists serve 20,000 kids across the city in over 150 New York City public schools. Every day, our educational arts programs inspire diverse school communities to be more engaged in learning and build critical skills. Our quality educational arts programs promote access and equity for New York City students underserved in the arts.

CULTURE STATEMENT

LEAP is a group of diverse and passionate individuals working together to prioritize youth and pursue our mission.

Our Goals

We collaborate to accomplish goals and are accountable to ourselves and others.

We strive for excellence, reflect on results, and celebrate success.

Our Peers

We foster relationships through intentional communication and attentive listening.

We welcome feedback with a growth mindset and offer feedback with empathy.

Our Space

We build trust through transparency, honesty, and humility.

We respect and attempt to meet each other's needs at work.

Our Community

We are inclusive and value the differences among us.

We listen to and acknowledge the voices of those we serve.

JOB PURPOSE

We are seeking passionate, experienced teaching artists with a vested interest in arts and academic integration for long term teaching opportunities at our partner schools in all five boroughs. Teaching artists must have demonstrated previous experience teaching Dance, ideally in NYC public school settings. We are seeking educators who share our belief in the power of experiential learning.

Dance is a kinesthetic art form where learning takes place in the body. Exploration of this art in a LEAP program is facilitated through various dance styles, history and composition. This includes but is not limited to steps, patterns, sequencing, creative movement, improvisation, body, space, time, energy, relationship, choreography, and performance.

SCOPE OF INFLUENCE

With Students using The LEAP Way

Lead experiences that drive student growth in creativity, collaboration, communication, critical thinking.
Model a growth mindset and love of learning through the LEAP Way, our creative youth development model.
Support learners to make meaning of their experiences through routine thoughtful reflection.

With Partners as a LEAP Ambassador

Build positive relationships with students, LEAP colleagues, and school partners.
Communicate with professionalism and respect.
Acknowledge, participate, respond to, and celebrate the culture of the communities that we serve.

With Peers through LEAP Professional Development

Join the LEAP community of artists and educators through our foundational trainings.
Invest in your growth as an educator through our Masterclass Learning Labs and Mentor coaching.
Connect with your peers and support your practice by joining our artmaking FREEPLAY Labs.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES AND ACCOUNTABILITIES

Represent LEAP through collaborative planning with school partners to support shared goals.
Plan engaging and active lessons that combine the arts and academics.
Establish and deliver clear lesson objectives writing daily lesson plans using the LEAP lesson plan format and the LEAP Way.
Prepare your classroom and all materials prior to facilitating planned activities.
Promote positive character development, a love of learning, and a growth mindset through modeling and instruction.

Make LEAP a visible and exciting part of the school community.
Aid in the organization and execution of student culminating performances and celebratory events.
Work closely with the LEAP staff to gather your data, attendance, assessment, and teaching documentation.
Attend and actively participate in required trainings and our professional development Learning Labs.
