We are offering $60 sessions with our clinicians. (Our typical rate is normally $300 and understand that cost of mental health services can be challenging to cover especially as an artist)

We are one of the most trusted counseling centers in Manhattan. Our team has years of experience helping people with mental health problems conquer their inner demons, reignite their relationships, and find their life's path.

Whether you are struggling with depression, anxiety, or any other disorder that affects your mood, thinking or behavior, you do not have to suffer alone in silence. Our therapists will support you every step of the way, helping you achieve milestones, and your treatment goals. Our clinicians are specialized in working with individual experiencing anxiety disorders, mood disorders, lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender issues, trauma, sexual abuse/assault and intimate partner violence, relationship issues, sleep disorders, addictions, and eating disorders. Our therapists will help you understand yourself better and devise step-by-step strategies and actions to chart your course through life.

The mental healthcare needs of patients vary depending upon the nature of their condition. We are committed to patient-centered care. After our team arrives at an accurate diagnosis, we will develop a treatment plan to fit your unique care needs. We are offering artists and performers prorated sessions at $60 per session.

You deserve the opportunity and ability to live your life's best course. With the help of our team at Cooper Mental Health, you can do just that.
