AXIS Dance Company exists to redefine dance and disability. AXIS is looking to hire a Rehearsal Director – a highly motivated individual with strong leadership, teaching and communication skills who works to advance this mission. Collaboration and teamwork are at the heart of the creation and performance of AXIS' repertory and extensive dance education programming for disabled and non-disabled neurodivergent people of all ages and experiences. As Rehearsal Director, they are an Ambassador, Representative and Spokesperson for the Company and its artistic objectives, and, at all times, acts in the company's best interest.

The Rehearsal Director reports directly to the Artistic Director and works closely with the Artistic Director, Company Manager and other staff at home and on tour. The Rehearsal Director will ensure all repertory is well rehearsed and the production and performance qualities are of high artistic excellence to represent the Company nationally and internationally. The Rehearsal Director is the point person when the Artistic Director is not on tour or in the studio.
