Ms. Tonya

Hello Dancers

My name is Tonya and not only am I in the Film/TV/Dance Theater industry, I'm a Transformative Mindset and Life Coach for women using menstrual cycle synergy! I'm looking for women to be guest on the podcast I'm launching January 2024 called "Unapologetically Woman" .
?Description:?
Unapologetically Woman by Host Ms. Tonya provides a safe and unfiltered space where diverse-minded, successful women openly share their raw experiences, covering the highs, lows, and everything in between with our periods! Catering to women during menstruation years and beyond, the podcast is a empowering journey breaking the stigma that surrounds women's health, offering insights on being unapologetic, deepening relationships, and celebrating success like a woman!
Guest:
I would like women in the dance industry to come on and speak about their experience with their period! It's also a great collaboration opportunity to promote yourself! I'm looking for women in all roles of dance theater from dancer to theater crew. If interested please complete the podcast guest form link so we can schedule a time for the recording! Look forward to meeting you on this empowering journey!
