DPRdance is seeking choreographers for their new initiative DPRdance: Sessions.

Date: Thursday 3/20/25

Time: 6-9:30pm, dances begin performing at 7:30pm

Location: Ripley Grier

Application Deadline: 2/28/25; rolling applications

This event is an opportunity to bring together the Jazz Dance community for a night of dance and connection. Choreographers who's submissions are accepted are invited to share works in progress with audience for peer feedback. The feedback portion gives the choreographers opportunities to share their work, approach and process to their piece while receiving developmental feedback and engaging with their community. After choreographers have shown their work, there will be time for community socializing. The work will be shown in-studio, DPRdance will offer minimal theatrical lighting to assist the choreographers in sharing the intention for the future realization of their pieces as well as stationary video placed from the center rear of the audience.

Works in progress are defined as incomplete dance pieces, dance pieces that are complete but have not performed, or dance pieces that have performed, but are being developed and changed by the choreographer. We are requesting that all pieces have a connection to jazz dance- musical theater, jazz fusions, and social dance are all encouraged to apply. Dances do not have to be "pure" jazz- there is opportunity in our application for choreographers to explain their relationship to jazz dance.

About us:

DPRdance is a non-profit which has been creating theatrical jazz dance for concert dance spaces since 2017. DPRdance has also consistently supported community through pay-what you can dance classes and community events. Pieces created by DPRdance have performed throughout the city, including off-broadway, as well as regionally. Grounded in the technique of Jack Cole, DPRdance seeks to bring theatrical jazz to concert dance spaces, create dialogue about jazz dance, foster community, and challenge the perceptions of jazz while remaining true to one central idea: we love to entertain ourselves and the audience!
