Ketchikan Dance Film Festival invites dance, movement and video/film artists to submit their dance films to the third season of the festival.

Entering its third season, KDFF is opening a call to all dance film submissions, 10 minutes and under, produced from 2023 onward. KDFF is so thrilled to announce multiple screening events this year.

The Ketchikan Dance Film Festival is an annual event held in Ketchikan, Alaska. Founded in 2023, KDFF strives to showcase professional dance films produced in Alaska and around the world. KDFF is the only dance film festival of its kind to premiere in Southeast Alaska.
