Are you a dancer who actually likes to go out dancing? Do you feel at home being a part of NYC's nightlife culture? Do you like being treated like royalty?

Welcome, we're glad you're here.

Dead Letter No. 9 is a nightlife wonderland, complete with 2 dance floors, 3 transportive "conversation parlor" spaces, a full bar and food - all inside a re-enlivened postal facility in the heart of Williamsburg. Google Maps Link Here.

You're here because you like to shake ass. So do we.

However, being in central Williamsburg, we've got a fair amount of guests who aren't the most experienced party-goers. We're bringing good-vibes folks in to help set an example on the dance floor. Phones away, conversations quiet, getting lost in the music and the movement.

We're pleased to offer free entry, free drinks, and some surprise treats for you and your group on one condition: you dance.
