

Friday, April 3, 2020

Dance Process Gallery

Company: DPG

► Share | Print | Download

In reaction to COVID-19's effect on the dance community, I created Dance Process Gallery, an online gallery for choreographers/dancers exploring other mediums such as essay writing, poetry, drawing, embroidery, knitting, etc as part of their dance research.

It is officially live with its first 2 posts! Check it out!

Submissions are live and rolling. If you want to submit or know someone who may be interested, please share with them.

To submit, email chloelondondance@gmail.com with the subject "Dance Process Gallery Submission" with your submission, and title of the work + description (if you want)

Your submission can be connected to a piece you have created/a dance that inspired you/a process you were in/a new way to connect to your creativity, etc. There are really no rules! I would love this gallery to be a reflection of the versatility and creativity of our dance community, and the many ways a process can blossom, transform, and be present.

Check out the site here:

<https://danceprocessgallery.wordpress.com>

DPG

<https://danceprocessgallery.wordpress.com>

For more information:

Chloe London

chloelondondance@gmail.com

< back

previous listing • next listing