The 92nd Street Y, New York's 2024/25 Harkness Dance Center season continues with The Legacy Project: A Dance of Hope from Carolyn Dorfman Dance. A Dance of Hope is a multimedia, interactive narrated performance that includes excerpts from Dorfman's full Legacy Project Catalog, a celebrated body of work that honors her Eastern European roots, Jewish heritage, the Holocaust and the American immigrant experience. Dorfman's 10-member multi-ethnic company performs works that share both the specific and universal stories of pain and loss, as well as redemption, compassion and hope. Performances are on January 11 and 12 in 92NY's Buttenwieser Hall at the Arnhold Center and tickets are available at <https://www.92ny.org/event/the-legacy-project>.

In Person

"In her works, visual images become still photographs that capture and freeze certain universal truths... [and] both reflect and engender a profound humanity. Because her dances are about people and life experience, often moving from the autobiographical to the universal, they hold immediate appeal." – The New York Times

About A Dance of Hope and Carolyn Dorfman Dance

Through contemporary dance, multimedia presentation and interactive dialogue, choreographer and master teacher Carolyn Dorfman, a child of Holocaust survivors, takes audiences and students on a powerful historical and cultural journey. With depth and reverence, Dorfman draws on the rich Jewish legacy, its history, traditions, gestures, and music to create work that is honestly personal yet powerfully universal.

The Legacy Project: A Dance of Hope is a multi-media, interactive narrated performance on the Holocaust, genocide, and immigration, featuring excerpts of Mayne Mentshn (My People), The Klezmer Sketch and The American Dream, and Cat's Cradle. All choreography is by Carolyn Dorfman.

"Each work", Dorfman explains, "is a ladle dipped into a historical cauldron of faith, survival, and renewal. It is through my work that I seek to connect, share, and build bridges within and between communities. Our survival as a human race depends on it."

Carolyn Dorfman Dance has been a part of 92NY for over two decades, where many of her works were first shared in process and performance.

About Carolyn Dorfman Dance

Carolyn Dorfman Dance moves people to connect to our common humanness to build understanding and face barriers together through powerfully expressive contemporary dance. Through the powerful choreography of founding Artistic Director Carolyn Dorfman and diverse
