Korea, prodigious in the field of dance, produces exceptional choreographers, dancers of technical brilliance and numerous international dance festivals. The rich history of Korean traditional dance and folk dance form a basis on which dance flourishes. In addition, traditional, folk and contemporary dance are taught in schools throughout South Korea from elementary school through college and both boys and girls dance in equal numbers. This is a culture that embraces and promotes dance. The four women presented on this program are distinctive, exciting, surprising and feral choreographers.
