BALAM Dance Theatre

BALAM Dance Theatre will present 'Baroque Dance Fantasies from England, France and Spain!' at the esteemed Gotham Early Music Scene's Midtown Concerts on Thursday, June 5 from 1:15 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. EST at St. Malachy's-The Actors' Chapel, located at 239 West 49th Street, New York, New York 10019. This imaginative program will be presented both live and virtually by Midtown Concerts, a project of Gotham Early Music Scene.

The event is open to the public, and admission is FREE. For people unable to attend the live performance, the program can also be viewed worldwide on June 5 at <https://gemsny.org/midtown-live>.

The enchanting program explores themes of love, nature, play, and ritual through the exquisite music of Baroque masters Henry Purcell, Jean Baptiste Lully, Francois Couperin, Jean Philippe Rameau, and Antonio Vivaldi. A cast of nine performers will be spotlighted. Guest musicians - - Lisa Terry (cello), Dongmyung Ahn (violin), Theresa Salomon (violin), Andrea Andros (viola), Gabe Shuford (harpsichord), and Ryan Closs (Baroque guitar)—will perform the gorgeous music of the master composers. BALAM's dancers – Robin Gilbert, Yumiko Niimi, and Carlos Fittante – will perform in splendid period costumes and striking masks enhanced by the lively sound of castanets. Together, they will inspire a delightful, imaginative ambiance from the Baroque period in England, France, and Spain.
