Location: New York, NY

Periapsis Music and Dance and The Actors Fund, hosted by NYU Tisch Dance, offer a chance for composers and choreographers to meet and get to know each other and their work. This is our third such event, and our second hosted by NYU, and they're always fun and productive, resulting in some actual new collaborations taking the stage. And it's free! Space is limited, and there will likely be a waitlist. RSVP through our calendar page!

Note: When you register for the event, we'll ask you for a link or two to your website, bio, or work sample. This is so that we can email the participants in advance with everybody's info, so you can get a sense of who will be there and what their work is like. People have really appreciated being able to prepare in this way.
