VOICES is bi-monthly series connecting artist to the dance community at large. Through this platform, dancers are given the opportunity to investigate the current practices and methods of the VOICES guest artists.

March 19, 12-2pm
Contemporary Class with Robert Mark Burke

Robert Mark Burke's class begins on the floor and aligns the body from the bottom up. Using a progression that slowly brings dancers out of the floor, Burke's class warms up the body in an efficient and effective way. The class then begins to pick up speed leading into a phrase that continues to lengthen the body through deep shifts of weight and a combination of core and distal initiations.
