In Witness Relocation's third collaboration with Chuck Mee various individuals meet the loves of their lives, struggle to get by, disappear from the world yet collide with each other at yard sales, parties, brunch gatherings and a lecture/demonstration or two. The performance style, like the text, is a collage of differing forms, including dramatic scenes, high impact partnering, social dance, live singing, film and video projection, and getting down to some good 'ol pop music. Witness Relocation combines dance and theater with the energy of a rock show, exploding contemporary culture into intensely physical, outrageous, poetic, and sometimes brutal performances.

$25 general admission, $20 seniors and students.

Ten $10 tickets will be available to every performance on a first-come, first-served basis.
