Class description

The class begins with simple improvisational exercises to activate the body and mind. Through task oriented improvisational prompts dancers will generate movement that will be incorporated in a new phrase by the end of the class.

This process gives dancers more interesting imagery and dialogue to create work utilizing their imagination to make choices rich with dynamic and beautiful movement. An inter dimensional dance class that is conducive to their own personal fulfillment and artistic realization.

Experience required for the participants
All movers are welcomed.

ABOUT MICHELLE

Michelle Sagarminaga is the Artistic Director and choreographer of "SagaDance Company". She was recently selected as one of the emerging choreographers for the Mare Nostrum Elements residency at the Laguardia Performing Arts Center. In, addition her production 'sKIN' premiered last fall at the Center for Performance Research fostering 17 artists in a multidisciplinary collaboration. Her career path became clear when she attended the Los Angeles County High School for the Arts (LACHSA).
