Shelver's "3114 BCE" - photo by Nan Melville

Steps Repertory Ensemble members Allie Gee, Carley Marholin, and Aurelien Peillex will present works created for their fellow company members, along with an excerpt from "Recur" by Jae Man Joo. Company Artistic Director Bradley Shelver will present two works: an excerpt from his new "Le Monde Est Fini, Pas De Panique," danced by the Ensemble, and his wild "3114 BCE," set to Ravel's Bolero. Advanced students at Steps will make an appearance in a Horton-inspired work by faculty member Karen Gayle. Ballet Neo, with direction and choreography by Kate Thomas, also Director of The School at Steps, will dance an excerpt from her new work "Fellini's Dream." Presented by Steps Beyond.
