Come out to be apart of the WORLD PREMIERE of 'FLUID'.

'FLUID' is an exhibition and self-titled world premiere film screaming created by dancer, choreographer, filmmaker and sculptor Michael Bishop. This film takes an intimate look at the beauty and pain of the African American experience and asks, "how can we heal"? Through original score, multi-genre dance, poetry and riveting visuals, FLUID takes you on a journey of self-love and healing. The sculptures become a physical representation of the themes in the film. Following the screening there will be a talk back session with creator/director Michael Bishop, cinematographer Christian Pinto, and producer Tallia Petrone where you can ask questions about the themes of the film, their meaning, how they play a role in our present/future and what it was like being in process for this work.
