*As Pizarts is sponsoring the workshop, if you are in a position to donate, we will be accepting tax-deductible donations via PayPal: pizarts@gmail.com. We are a tiny but mighty team, and as a grassroots dance organization fiscally sponsored by Fractured Atlas we receive no outside funding. Thank you for your support during this time and for moving with us. We hope to see you this weekend where we can all further support each other and be together. We stand in solidarity with #blacklivesmatter and we deeply understand the importance of movement at this time and at all times. In the words of Emma Goldman:

"A revolution without dance is a revolution not worth having."
