GODSPAWN is a dark, glittering, transgender rumpus through a dark-wave nightclub at the edge of the world. Combining queer dance-theater, drag, and nightlife, this playful, experimental work ultimately acts as a ritual for the dance floor. We thrash towards some blissful place where the self is delightfully lost somewhere in between those other sweaty bodies and the bass. Somewhere, out in that glittering fog, Sublimation collides with the Sublime. GODSPAWN begins as a performance, and ends as a party.
