

Sunday, April 10, 2022

Interdisciplinary Movement Art for 2022

Company: Dance Visions NY, Inc.

Venue: Hewlett-Woodmere Public Library, Gold Hall

Location: Hewlett, NY

► Share | Print | Download

Ilene Isseks

"Morning Afternoon Evening" brings to life the imagery and ideas expressed in a lyrical and symbolic poem written by the creator's daughter. Depicting a journey following a river from its source in caves all the way to the mouth of the ocean, this thought-provoking piece illustrates the life cycle of an idea, an individual, a culture, humanity, a universe.

This holistic artwork, consisting of poetry, dance, theater and projected imagery encompasses timeless and timely themes of destruction leading to creation. darkness to light, endings to beginnings.

Program will also include the original, historical Isadora Duncan dance repertory that inspired the choreography in "Morning Afternoon Evening." These works were created by Duncan to the music of Chopin, Brahms, Schubert, Glück and Scriabin and will be played live on piano.

Director, Choreographer, Imagery: Beth Jucovy

Poet: Kyra Jucovy

Imagery Assistant: Anthony Pepitone

Technical Director: Daisy Phillips

PERFORMING ARTISTS

Actor: Tzena Nicole,

Dancers: Eric Acevedo, Louisa Cathcart, Ligia Gaissionok, Chiemi Ip, Beth Jucovy, Rebekah Mulkey, Olivia Parente, Michelle Tilghman

Pianist: Leonard Lehrman

For free ticket reservations call 516 374 1967 ext 231

Dance Visions NY, Inc.

1125 Broadway

Hewlett, NY, 11598

516 374 1967 231

<https://hwpl.evanced.info/signup/eventdetails?eventid=16377&lib=0&return;=>

Schedule

April 10, 2022: 2:30pm

< back

previous listing • next listing