Anthony Pepitone

Dance Visions NY and "Dancers for Life," consisting of Community Education Dance students of Beth Jucovy, will collaborate on an exciting showing of unique and creative dance works made for and by the dancers. Enjoy an evening of movement to Jazz and Rock songs as well as classical and new age music. Dancers from Dance Visions NY will add to the richness of the evening. See authentic and beautiful movement which comes from the heart and knows no age limit.

The concert is divided into three sections. The first section consists of authentic Isadora Duncan works performed by dancers of different generations demonstrating how people of all ages can experience and perform beautiful, universal movement. The second section is a series of unique works created by the dancers including varied creative and modern dance works. The third section includes dances created by Ms Jucovy in collaboration with the dancers to classic rock songs which will get audience members singing and dancing along!

Join us as we demonstrate dance and music which is inspiring, beneficial and joyful for people of all ages.
