Join us for our Into-You-I-See TWO-DAY Intensive!! We will be exploring our listening (both with our ears and body) in these 2-days, giving us more time to play, experiment, and connect.

This intensive is designed to build with the same group of people for both days.

Dates: Saturday, February 10th + Sunday, February 11th

Times: 1-3pm

Location: Downtown Manhattan, NY

Tickets: $20 (for full intensive, both days)

What is Into-You-I-See?

Into-You-I-See, a play on the word "intimacy," is a human connection movement workshop focusing on choreography-building through physical, emotional responses. Most of us assume listening to be a passive part of communication. In this workshop, we will approach "listening" as something that is active, and is one of the most generous things you can provide another person, and we will get to bring this to the forefront of our awareness and begin using techniques to practice and strengthen this muscle. It aims to foster collaborative exploration of the language of movement and the unspoken interpretation of self, our subconscious.

With experience in engaging a diverse range of proficiencies and age groups, "Into-You-I-See" offers the flexibility to accommodate partners of any expertise level (designed for non-dancers and dancers alike).
