An intimate group of committed artists dedicated to moving together, training, experimenting, and exploring LEIMAY LUDUS.

Join LEIMAY's in-person Training Group by participating in weekly training sessions. Commit to multiple sessions and receive discounts or feel free to join us for a single class.

Who should apply?

The LEIMAY Ludus Training Group is open to dancers, movement artists, actors, directors, performers as well as humans with a focused interest in connecting deeply to the LUDUS practice.

What is LEIMAY LUDUS?

As part of LEIMAY Ensemble's regular practice, LEIMAY LUDUS explores methods for conditioning the body and developing a sensitivity to the 'in-between space.' LEIMAY LUDUS aims to stimulate imagination, enhance creativity, and challenge Euro-centric dance and performance training frameworks by expanding notions of body, space, and time. It is based on principles developed by LEIMAY's Artistic Co-Director, Ximena Garnica, over nearly two decades of her study of Butoh, Noguchi Taiso, and Experimental theater, and it has been further developed by core Ensemble members over the years.
