We may not always know what triggers our feelings of discomfort, but we invariably recognize when we have hit rock bottom.

"Lost and Found" is a captivating production by Sun Kim Dance Theatre that explores the journey of losing hope and the internal struggle to fill that void.

Embarking on a journey in search of hope can sometimes lead us into a labyrinth, where we may encounter obstacles and find ourselves surrounded by darkness. The pursuit of hope can evoke a whirlwind of emotions, and unpleasant thoughts have a way of trapping us in a void, becoming our own prison. At times, feeling lost can be more comforting than venturing into the unknown in pursuit of what we truly desire.

Will you take a helping hand if offered? What will you do to find hope and hold onto it?

Through spoken word and Popping-based storytelling, this innovative piece invites you to embark on a voyage of self-realization, discovering what you have lost and allowing it to find its way back to you.
