Monday, June 1, 2015

NDI Teaching Artist Training - Free Sample Class

Company: National Dance Institute
Venue: National Dance Institute Center for Learning & the Arts
Location: New York, NY

Are you interested in training in NDI's unique, award-winning pedagogy but would like to learn more before applying? Our sample class is joyful, informative - and free!

Reservations required.

5:00-6:30 PM

National Dance Institute Center for Learning & the Arts

To make a reservation, please contact Hannah Bailenson at hbailenson@nationaldance.org or (212) 226-0083.

Teaching Artist Training Two-Week Intensive

Monday, July 27th - Friday, August 7th

8:30 AM to 4:00 PM

Fee: $1000

NDI Teaching Artist Training is an intensive immersion in National Dance Institute's renowned teaching techniques. Led by NDI's Master Teaching Artists, the training takes place at the state-of-the-art NDI Center in Harlem, and gives participants hands-on experience working directly with New York City public school children. Each year, professional artists and educators from around the globe participate in the training and emerge from this transformative experience with an advanced set of teaching tools and a deepened understanding of the power of the arts in education.

NDI Teaching Artist Training includes daily teaching assignments, choreography workshops, stimulating group discussions, and presentations from leaders in education.

Register online at www.nationaldance.org/teachertraining

National Dance Institute
217 West 147th Street
New York, NY, 10039
(212) 226-0083

Schedule
June 1, 2015: 5:00pm