The Two-Week Intensive is an immersion in NDI's renowned teaching techniques. Led by NDI's Master Teaching Artists, the training takes place at the NDI Center for Learning & the Arts in Harlem. Participants work directly with children, mastering the unique pedagogy that has been developed over NDI's 43-year history. Each year, professional artists and educators from around the globe emerge from this transformative experience with an advanced set of teaching tools that equip them to motivate, engage, and inspire diverse learners to excellence through the power of the arts.

The Two-Week Intensive includes daily teaching opportunities, choreography workshops, stimulating group discussions, and presentations from leaders in education. This enriching program culminates in a celebratory performance.
