Join us for Physical Listening LABs in October on Wednesdays from 9.30 am - 12.30 pm with JoAnna Mendl Shaw of The Equus Projects / Onsite NYC.

Dates: 10/2, 10/9, 10/16, 10/23, 10/30

Embodied Explorations for Curious Humans!

Physical Listening is a somatic practice that sharpens our noticing and creative decision-making skills, each class explores a central inquiry through somatic experiences, guided improvisations, doodling, journal writing, movement making and group brainstorming.

In the LABs we ask these questions:

How can spatial intention improve my communication skills?

What does it mean to feel another person's energy?

How can I access my own creative instincts?

How can I avoid over-thinking?

How can I access deep play?

Please check the link to RSVP for a LAB session. Class cost is $25 per session.
