Interested in spearheading a movement at the intersection of science and the arts? Join us for a moderated talk where we will dive deep into the mind and world of quantum physicist and ballerina Merritt Moore, who's performed for various world-renowned dance companies throughout Europe while pursuing a PhD in Physics at Oxford University. Come and see what it took to pursue these two amazing passions and explore how artists and scientists may continue to integrate and collaborate in the future.

Speaker: Merritt Moore

Host: Valentina Strokopytova

Guest registration code: POINTE08
