Aangan NYC

A dance salon featuring South Asian artists!

Re-Imagining: The Dance-Making Process features 6 South Asian dancers who will present works in progress to an audience of their peers, mentors, and industry professionals. The performances will be followed by a moderated discussion so that the artists can receive critical feedback that they can then use to continue developing their work.

Aangan is an inclusive community for lovers and practioners of art, regardless of background, age, ability, or any other categorization. This event is open to all dance enthusiasts! (Please note that the themes of some of the dance works may not be appropriate for young children.)
