Accent Dance NYC celebrates Hispanic Heritage Month with Regalo Hispánico, an evening of dance at the iconic Latinx theater on Manhattan's Lower East Side, Teatro LATEA. The evening features a world premiere commission by Mexican choreographer, David Fernandez, highlighting a boy's journey through the pandemic. Exploring themes of Mexican Folk Art, mythical creatures, and the importance of family, this playful work is joined by the voices of other award-winning and emerging Latinx dancemakers and composers, including Cuban choreographer Pedro Ruiz, Argentinian choreographer Dardo Galletto, and composers Jesus Echevaria, Alejandro Giacomani, Felipe Villanueva, Arturo Marquez, Mariano Mores, and others.

Proof of completed COVID-19 vaccination status and the wearing of a face mask will be required to attend this event.
