Brooklyn, NY: Roulette presents aour favorite queen of the intelligent quirka (New York Times) a the radical (& iconoclassical) choreographer Sally Silvers a presents her first large group piece since 2009. After decades of her wild, post-Judson experimentation (& after 5 years dancing for Yvonne Rainer), award-winning adowntowna choreography springboards into the witty, wistful sophistication of the Broadway stage. In an extreme mash-up, Silvers puts synchronized swimming, martial arts, roller derby, childrenas games, billiards, ice dancing & other instructional material into the mix at Rouletteas gorgeous new Brooklyn space. With a half-dozen Stephen Sondheim musicals as a focus for her madcap lens of off-kilter, playful, inventive dance, BONOBO MILKSHAKE makes for a sexy fresh species of movement art. Starring an ensemble of 7 dancers.
