THE MOVING MEMORY PROJECT is a new festival devoted to memory and forgetting, co-curated by choreographer Stefanie Nelson of Stefanie Nelson Dancegroup and bestselling author David Shenk (The Forgetting). The inaugural event will feature Stefanie Nelson's A, MY NAME IS..., a dance piece inspired by a family experience with dementia, along with the selection of short films from David Shenk's Living With Alzheimer's Film Project. Nelson and Shenk's vision for this festival is to bring together artists, caregivers, and seniors, to create a community of care surrounding issues connected to memory loss, and to destigmatize the diagnosis of dementia with the ultimate goal of increasing awareness to increase funding until a cure is found. The inaugural event focuses on Alzheimer's and is preceded by a series of "Memories in Motion" workshops for seniors and caregivers at the Union Settlement Senior Center in East Harlem. There will also be a post-show panel discussion featuring Meredith Wong from CaringKind's (formerly known as the Alzheimer's Association, NYC Chapter) Connect2Culture program and Timothy W. Armour, President and CEO of the Cure Alzheimer's Fund.
