ABOUT DANCE DIFFERENTLY

Audrey began co-exploring with Shaw six years ago, in weekly Equus Projects research sessions. Moving from an interspecies perspective the Equus Projects company devised countless improvisations scores, choreographic strategies and a somatic practice informed by working with equines. The workshops, aptly named Dance Differently, became an ideal way for dancers to audition for the Equus company. Workshops focused on heightened the Physical Listening skills and real-time decision-making, internal rule structures and developing dynamic choreographic trajectories. Each class yielded small choreographic gems.

To register for class please email joannamendlshaw@gmail.com

If your schedule is available to attend all eight sessions please note that to JoAnna when reaching out as she is looking to give one full scholarship to one dancer who can commit to all eight workshop sessions :)
