This free one-hour version of the beloved holiday ballet performed to Tchaikovsky's cherished score is set Art Nouveau-style circa 1907 with innovative choreography by long-time New York Theatre Ballet choreographer, Keith Michael. The acclaimed dance company will present three performances in the Winter Garden, one of the city's only free opportunities to enjoy a holiday must-see performance. Perfect for ages 3 and up!

Please note, seating for these popular performances is first come, first served and early arrival is strongly suggested.
