Spark Movement Collective presents The Road, an original dance performance for all ages inspired by Cleo Wade's book What the Road Said, illustrated by Lucie de Moyencourt. This show takes the whole family on a journey as it follows one child as they work through life's challenging questions and moments. The audience will have a chance to interact and share what they think it means to be brave while helping to create movements for the characters at the end. The Road helps us all see how we can walk our own paths and bring those around us together with love, peace, and patience.
