"Everything" is a dance performance installation evoking the ever-expanding universe, transforming the performance space into a constellation of stars and human bodies in various states of formation and explosion. Inspired by astrophotography, string theory, interconnectivity and meditations on space and time. The new dance work conceived and directed by Valerie Green, weaves together a visual, physical and emotional translation of the cosmos. The work features 6 Dance Entropy company members and live music by Mark Katsounis, Joseph Johnson, and Luigi Gennaro.
